

Fourthstream would like to recommend the following books.

THE INSIDER

A rediscovery of principles of authentic, relational sharing of the Good News.

It is a practical, trans-cultural explanation of how the Gospel grows through the average, everyday lives of Christ-followers. Helps us discover our place in the expanding Kingdom as we plant and water seeds that the Holy Spirit is growing all around us. NAVPRESS by Mike Shamy and Jim Peterson.

THE SHAPING OF THINGS TO COME

THE BOX:

That the Church needs to grow in the same way that it has for the last 100 years. Leaders lead, Followers follow. Marketing rules. Success is measured by numbers, visible results, and the ability to network.

THE SHAPING OF THINGS TO COME:

A return to what made the Church grow immediately following the resurrection of Jesus. The mobility of apostles, prophets, pastors, teachers, and evangelists among the flock. Leaders serve. Followers recognize their priesthood. Success is measured by the presence of Kingdom spirituality among Jesus followers and their heart and impact among those who are coming to Jesus.

THE RECOMMENDATION:

Think outside the bun (I mean, box.). The Shaping of Things to Come by Frost and Hirsch.

Your life is a significant expression of Jesus' growing Kingdom. These books will help you recapture an authentic view of your life in relationship to Jesus' Kingdom work. And that can be so cool!